Doud Hausner & Associates has become the latest sponsor of the Chairmen's RoundTable (CRT), an organization that provides free advice to burgeoning businesses.

Doud Hausner & Associates offers advisory services to family businesses, focusing on helping families maintain continuity of business leadership, management and ownership as they transition from one generation to the next.

"CRT sponsors share our passion for entrepreneurial success," said Tom Dorosewicz, chairman of the Chairmen's RoundTable. "All of our sponsors contribute to the growth and prosperity of the business community and individual businesses in their own unique way. ... They provide a vital service to family-owned businesses by helping them work through tough issues. In many cases, the CRT can offer a valuable extension of their services through our CEO mentorship program."

Ivy Gordon, partner with Doud Hausner & Associates said the firm is pleased to be a sponsor for CRT.

"It was exciting to discover this incredible resource available at no charge to local businesses, so we signed on as a sponsor to make the resources of the CRT available to our clients as well as other growing businesses," Gordon said.
